ENGINE · BASE.FINISH.CSS

The finish follows the panel, not the page

A frame that restates its canvas above the register keeps it — and the finish has to composite against what the slide really paints.

SECTION 01

SECTION 01 · PRINT

The register wins

Print resets the surface and remaps the consumed tokens, so a plain topic gives up its panel and the finish follows it to the page.

SECTION 01 · PRINT

The third arm

A fact slide keeps its panel when the register takes the page.

SECTION.TOPIC.FACT (0,2,1) BEATS SECTION.PRINT (0,1,1)

Same section, same track

The track is what makes the difference measurable: a tracked topic is back at the base specificity, a tracked fact slide is not.

Measured on the exported PDF, not the screen — the two faces disagree here.
