Imagery — visuals that carry their own meaning.

THE ATELIER

Hand-lasted, one pair at a time.

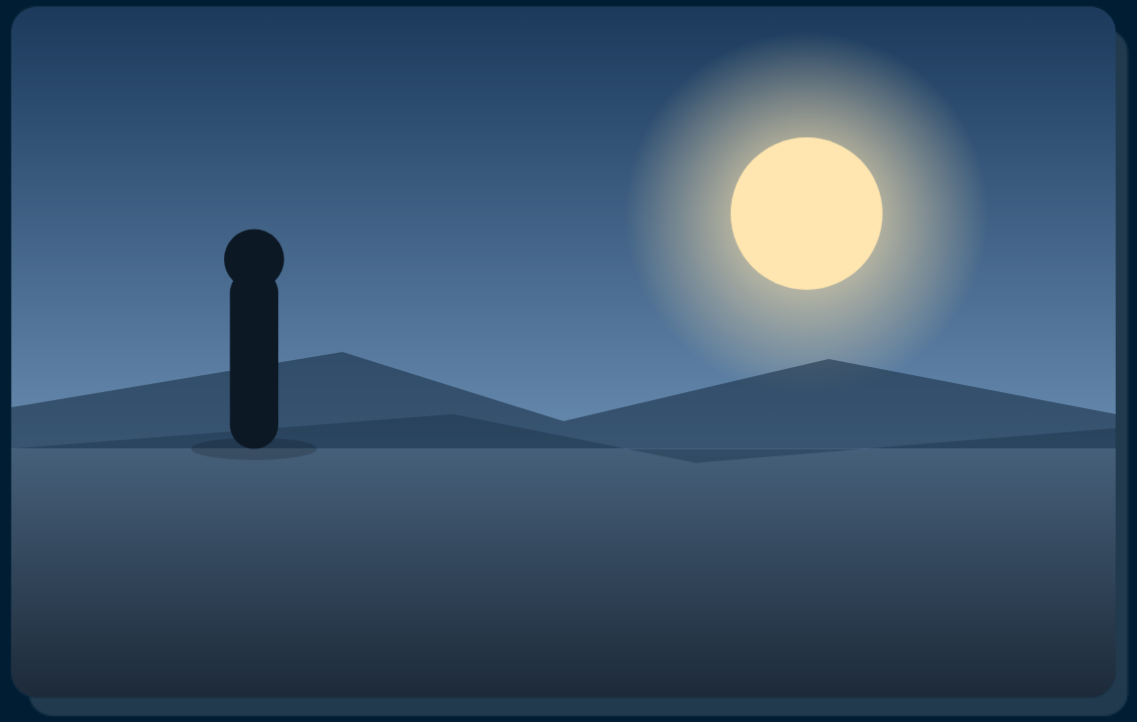

Five photographs from the autumn bench

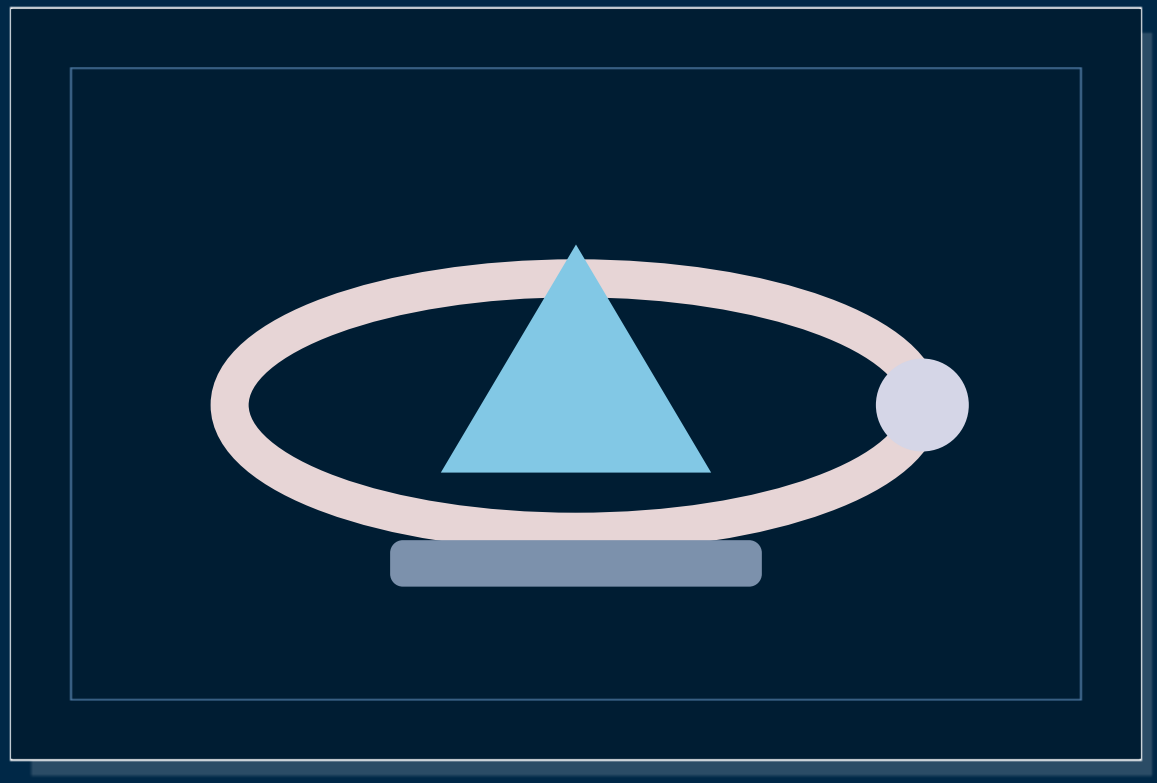

Each pair starts as a last carved to one foot. Leather is cut by hand and finished over fourteen weeks.

The image layout reads the asset’s shape.

Two-thirds of trials that reach the first generated report convert to paid; the ones that stall at workspace setup almost never do. Hand the layout any photo — it resolves the composition from the asset's shape.

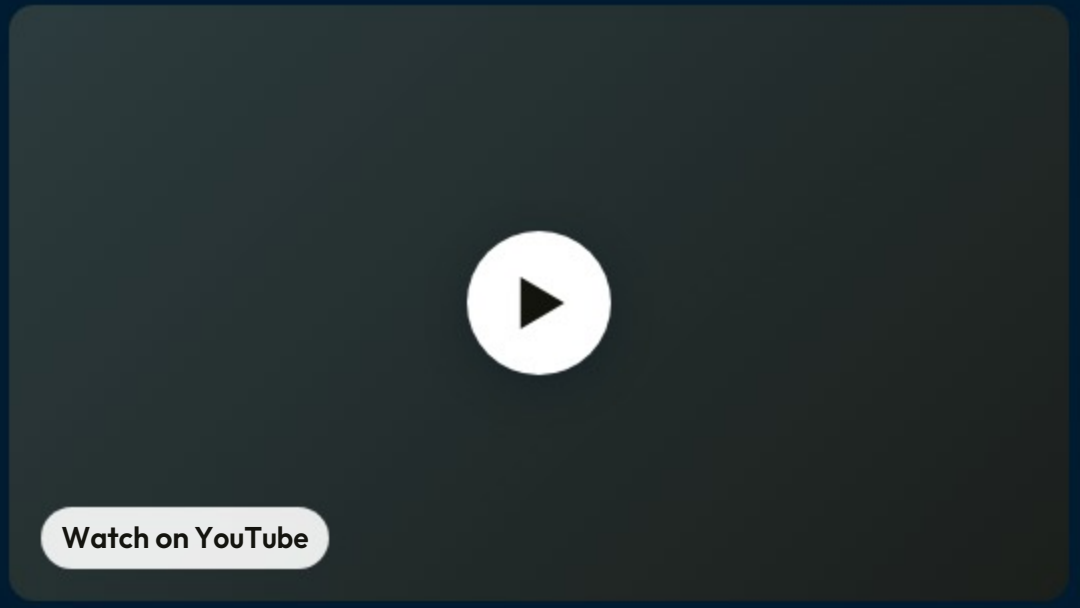

The rotor spins inside its fixed housing.

The poster freezes the hero frame; on screen the rotor turns and a bead traces its ring.

The video card plays beside its context.
