pricing · fix · 2026-10-25

A pricing feature row wraps inside its card.

A feature row used to stay on one line however narrow its tier was, so the card cut the end of any row longer than the column.

Three tiers, one recommended column.

Starter

- The checklist rows compare
- A dash marks a capped limit
- ~~Slashed rows mean not included~~

One line positions the tier.

MOST POPULAR

Growth

$49 / mo

- The starred tier gets the accent
- Checks accumulate up the ladder
- ~~One gap keeps it honest~~

The column buyers should read first.

Enterprise

Custom

- The top tier checks every row
- Custom replaces a number
- Nothing slashed up here

The ceiling of the ladder.

The default sample · "Checks accumulate up the ladder" ran 11px past the Growth card and was cut

Real feature names run longer than the sample.

Team

$12 / seat

- Unlimited decks with version history
- Shared themes across the workspace
- ~~Single sign-on with your identity provider~~

For one team that presents weekly.

RECOMMENDED

Business

$29 / seat

- Unlimited decks with version history
- Shared themes across the workspace
- Single sign-on with your identity provider

For a department with its own budget.

Enterprise

Custom

- Everything in Business, per workspace
- Audit log exported to your security tools
- A named success manager

For trying it out.	For one team.	For a department.	For the whole company.

four · the narrowest columns, where wrapping matters most

Two plans, head to head.

Self-serve

$49 / mo

- Wider columns, more feature rows
- ~~The gap that motivates upgrading~~

The simple path.

Enterprise

Custom

- Everything in self-serve
- The rows that close deals

The guided path.

Dark mode wraps the same way.
