Feature demo · actors

Five rows or more become one line each.

At four rows the ledger keeps its two-line cards. From five, each row is responsibility, body and chip on one line, so seven rows fit the stage instead of printing over each other.

Four rows keep the two-line card.

Owns intake — Signal owner

Manages source quality and diversity. Never tunes the weights directly.

Owns scoring — Framework operator

Sets calibration cadence and version floors.

Owns review — Panel chair

Runs the monthly challenge of the top-ranked items.

Owns release — Release manager

Signs off the version that ships.

Five rows share a line each.

Owns intake	Manages source quality and diversity.	Signal owner
Owns scoring	Sets calibration cadence and version floors.	Framework operator
Owns review	Runs the monthly challenge of the top items.	Panel chair
Owns release	Signs off the version that ships.	Release manager
Owns audit	Samples one release a quarter against the policy.	Auditor

Five rows · the first dense slide. Before: 537px of rows in a 435px stage.

Six rows are the soft ceiling.

Owns intake	Manages source quality and diversity.	Signal owner
Owns scoring	Sets calibration cadence and version floors.	Framework operator
Owns review	Runs the monthly challenge of the top items.	Panel chair
Owns release	Signs off the version that ships.	Release manager
Owns audit	Samples one release a quarter against the policy.	Auditor
Owns training	Keeps the onboarding course in step with the policy.	Enablement lead

Seven rows fit without overprint.

Row one	Every row keeps a verb-first responsibility line.	First seat
Row two	Eighteen words is the hard budget; this row spends most of them.	Second seat
Row three	Rows stay parallel or the chips stop lining up.	Third seat
Row four	Middle rows read fastest; bury nothing important.	Fourth seat
Row five	The eye is tiring by now, so keep these short.	Fifth seat
Row six	The soft ceiling was one row ago.	Sixth seat
Row seven	The hard stop; an eighth row means a second slide.	Last seat

The same seven rows in dark.

Row one	Every row keeps a verb-first responsibility line.	First seat
Row two	Eighteen words is the hard budget; this row spends most of them.	Second seat
Row three	Rows stay parallel or the chips stop lining up.	Third seat
Row four	Middle rows read fastest; bury nothing important.	Fourth seat
Row five	The eye is tiring by now, so keep these short.	Fifth seat
Row six	The soft ceiling was one row ago.	Sixth seat
Row seven	The hard stop; an eighth row means a second slide.	Last seat