typography · venue chrome

The room reads the slide, not the frame.

At hall and conference the header, footer and page number step back.

The header, footer and page number step back.

They follow the venue's type step.

They skip the label lift.

They take a further 15% cut.

Laptop and huddle do not change.

Eyebrows keep their lift; the frame does not.

Eyebrow

Lifted, so the back row can read it.

Header and footer

Muted and small, so they stay out of the way.

Page number

Small, but still legible from the back.

Why not smaller still.

Below about 5 arcminutes text fails.

At hall that is about 17px.

The footer may carry a confidentiality line.

19px clears it at 8 screen-heights.
