ENGINE · BASE.FINISH.CSS

The finish follows the panel, not the page

A frame that restates its canvas above the register keeps it — and the finish has to composite against what the slide really paints.

SECTION 01

Where print takes the page.

The register wins

Print resets the surface and remaps the consumed tokens, so a plain topic gives up its panel and the finish follows it to the page.

SECTION 01 · PRINT

The third arm

A fact slide keeps its panel when the register takes the page.

SECTION.TOPIC.FACT (0,2,1) BEATS SECTION.PRINT (0,1,1)

Same section, same track

The track is what makes the difference measurable: a tracked topic is back at the base specificity, a tracked fact slide is not.

The register wins

The third arm

Same section, same track

Measured on the exported PDF, not the screen — the two faces disagree here.
